

I am a single mother who often works 50 hour weeks, plus travel time, which does not leave much extra time in my schedule.

The School Based Health Center has enabled me to have my daughter seen and treated during school hours.

This has reduced the amount of time that I would be required to take off from work in order to bring my daughter to her primary care doctor.

The SBHC was able to treat her for a variety of illnesses and reduce her recovery time. They phoned in her prescription so I could pick it up from the pharmacy on my way home from work. The SBHC regularly contacted me at work when my daughter was ill.

Having the SBHC also significantly lessens the amount of school my daughter would have to miss.

The SBHC nurse practitioner's follow-up exams were always impeccable, and my daughter was able to get her physical and immunizations without missing a day of school.

The SBHC program and staff supply an invaluable service, not only to the children they see, but to parents too. They allow children to stay in school longer, and the parents to stay at work without worrying about their kids.
